

WE SUPPORT*WE Soda reaffirms its support for the UN Global Compact

WE Soda, the world's largest producer of soda ash, is proud to reaffirm its support for the UN Global Compact (UNGC), the world's largest corporate sustainability initiative. By supporting the UNGC, WE Soda underscores its commitment to align its strategies and operations with the Ten Principles of the UNGC, which cover human rights, labour, environment, and anti-corruption, and to support the achievement of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).

"We are proud to support the UNGC and to demonstrate our ongoing commitment to the principles of responsible and sustainable business practices. As a leading global industrial manufacturing company and a leader in sustainability, we aim to make a meaningful difference, by challenging the status quo, and by taking innovative steps to support the energy transition, improve the environment and help to restore the world for future generations" WE Soda's Chief Executive Officer, Alasdair Warren

WE Soda operates some of the world's largest natural soda ash production facilities, located in Türkiye and Wyoming USA, producing approximately 9.5 million metric tonnes each year, which it sells to large industrial customers in over 80 countries. Soda ash is a key ingredient in glassmaking, including the PV glass used in solar panels, as well as in powdered detergents, food, pharmaceuticals and other applications critical to the energy transition including the production of lithium carbonate used for electric vehicle batteries.

By supporting the UNGC, WE Soda joins a network of over 13,000 companies and organisations from more than 160 countries, who are working together to advance the global goals of sustainability, peace and prosperity. WE Soda believes that the UNGC provides a valuable framework and platform for learning, sharing and collaborating with other stakeholders, and for enhancing its positive impact on society and the environment.
